HAMILTON AND DISTRICT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Pleasures of Life in the City.

Jackson Square. At the heart of Hamilton's downtown renaissance. More than 230 fine shops and eating places, one-of-a-kind boutiques and a 150 year old farmers' market. It's where people in Hamilton meet. And that is one of the greatest pleasures of life in the city.

Jackson Square

DOWNTOWN HAMILTON

THE 7.7 BILLION DOLLAR MARKET

"Exciting, dynamic, on the move" is the best way to describe the Hamilton and region market. With over a half a million in population, the Hamilton C.M.A. is ranked the third largest market in Ontario with a per capita income 6% above the Canadian average.

When it comes to delivering this market, no other media comes close to The Spectator's 65% penetration reach of adults 18+. The Spectator is the paper of record.

Nobody covers your market like The Hamilton Spectator.

HOW TO USE THIS DIRECTORY

For your convenience, the directory lists its member firms in each of the two sections:

1. The Membership Roster (pages 23 - 39) presents each firm alphabetically with address and telephone number as well as the name of its key representative to the Chamber of Commerce. This master listing also includes the firm's business classification as it appears in the Buyer's Guide.
2. The Buyer's Guide (pages 47 - 90) classifies the member firm according to its type of business and lists its address and telephone number.

Also included, for your convenience, is an alphabetical listing of individual representatives and their company names. This listing can be found on pages 41 - 45. For example, The Allan Candy Co., Ltd., is listed as follows:

Coca-Cola
CLASSIC
Trade Marks Reg.

Both "Coca-Cola Classic" and "Coke Classic" are registered trade marks which identify only the same product of Coca-Cola Ltd.

Profiles In Progress

Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither was Greater Hamilton.

Our traditions, institutions, history and culture have all evolved since the early 1800's when Hamilton grew from a hamlet to a village, then to a town and city, and finally to become the largest partner in what is now the Regional Municipality of Hamilton-Wentworth.

The same can also be said of the area's Business Community.

Men and women of courage, daring and vision combined through the years with a talented labour force to risk everything in order to establish a profitable, reputable business.

The following pages document the phenomenal growth of a number of those businesses and organizations. In terms of years, some are young, some are old, but their commonality is the fascinating story each has to tell.

We call them "Profiles In Progress".

They call them "Their Story".

They've earned that right.

Let them begin.

Toronto School of Business

The Toronto School of Business is the largest chain of private vocational schools and was established in 1976, by Allan Ebedes, with the Hamilton Campus being established 6 years ago. Recent years have seen a significant and rapid growth in the franchise, under the direction of David and Sandy Gowans.

All the courses offered by the Toronto School of Business are recognized by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities. The high level of successful graduates from the Toronto School of Business reflects the quality of course curriculum and teaching skills provided at the campus. The school offers courses in the following: Accounting and Computers, Business Administration, Computer Programming, Travel and Tourism, Fashion Merchandising, Hotel & Restaurant Management, Micro Computer Electronic Technology, On Line Bank Telling and Customer Service Representative, Micro Computer Business Applications, Legal Secretary, Medical Secretary, Word Processing, Executive Secretary, and in addition, courses can be custom tailored to the student's needs. As well, the Toronto School of Business offers courses in professional upgrading to enhance your present job skills in Word Perfect 4.2 and upgrading to Word Perfect 5.0, and introduction to Lotus 1-2-3, Dos and dBase.

We specialize in hands on skills training in preparation for the work force as opposed to theoretical studies. The graduates of the Toronto School of Business learn the most up to date job skills demanded by industry today.

Upon completion of their diploma, all students are required to attend a job placement workshop in which they are taught job search skills, interview techniques, résumé writing, telemarketing techniques, and positive presentation skills.

As an added bonus, all TSB graduates have free lifetime refresher privileges for any updates in their field of study.

All TSB graduates are eligible to register with the 9 to 5 placement agency which refers TSB graduates only and actively seeks out employment opportunities in the Hamilton area. The TSB graduate is well prepared for entry level positions that are available in the work place and would be an asset to any organization, as reflected in our high level placement rate. There is a nominal fee to the employer for placement of the graduates and which is only payable if the student is hired.

The school's objective is to ensure that all students complete their course of study and secure employment in their chosen field to begin a successful career.

"Your Success Is Our Success"

Harry Mitchell, president and co-founder of Armagh Cash Register Limited, with partner John DiNino, Service Manager.

SERVICE

Armagh makes its name with an old-fashioned notion in an increasingly high-tech world

ARMAGH CASH REGISTER LIMITED is #1 in its field for good reason.

In fact, there are several good reasons. But tops on the list is service.

"We are highly dedicated to service; we believe we owe it to our customers to ensure they get value for their purchasing dollar by providing service, service, service," says Harry Mitchell, president and co-founder of the company.

Founded in 1979, Armagh has grown into the area's largest independent distributor of cash register and electronic scale/label printer weighing systems.

Successful growth has meant going a little further than the other guys.

When you buy from Armagh, the service begins when a highly trained sales representative assesses your needs on-site and recommends the system best suited for your needs and your budget.

ONCE YOUR SYSTEM is installed, you probably won't need more than Armagh's regular service — but you'll rest easier knowing their highly trained service technicians are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 364 days a year ("We take Christmas off.").

The company also offers a full one-year warranty on all parts and labor, an old-fashioned touch in the increasingly high-tech world of cash registers.

"These features are very important to our customers, most of whom are involved in retail sales," says Harry.

"Retail terminals must always be functioning properly. As close to 100 per cent 'uptime' as possible must be maintained."

ment — and only

Over the years, I have every brand on the market and I know from experience that TEC has the be record of quality and reliability, Harry.

This is evidenced by the more than 6.5 million units installed in 10 Canadian provinces, 50 states and 56 countries around the world.

TEC systems are also engineered to provide programmability, an important feature as software programs are continuously being improved and updated.

Armagh was established in Hamilton in 1979 by Harry Mitchell and John DiNino who is the company's Service Manager. The company covers Hamilton, the Niagara Peninsula, Brantford, Simcoe, Burlington, Oakville, and all of Halton.

The marriage of TEC quality with Armagh dedication to service has been a successful one — Armagh is now the largest retail TEC dealer in Canada.

ARMAGH'S CUSTOMER BASE ranges from small corner stores to established chain operations such as Fortinos Supermarkets, Tim Horton Donuts, The Barn Fruitmarket, Mac's and 7-11 convenience stores.

"John and I have grown up with the electronics revolution in the cash-register industry," says Harry. "We are selling equipment today that we never dreamed was possible 10 years ago."

Having come through the electronics revolution from its beginnings, Harry understands the need for up-to-date training on a on-going basis.

"Our business has technologically advanced to such a degree that it is becoming imperative not only for our installers and technicians to receive training throughout the year, but also for our sales force."

Harry is emphatic about the focus at Armagh.

"Our management and staff focus upon developing and marketing the most technologically advanced and cost effective ECR/POS systems available.

"It is our dedication to the retail industry that has enabled Armagh Cash Register Limited to build customer confidence in our firm and we will continue striving to enhance our reputation."

Re/Max Advantage Realty Inc. Since 1985.

Re/Max advantage has come a long way from the renovated garage where they started. Location problems started soon after the purchase of the Re/Max advantage franchise in the fall of 1984. Planning a glitzy spring opening of the fledgling business' offices in the Radio Centre on Main Street West, were set-back due to a delay in the plaza's completion date, and Re/Max advantage was forced to open before the offices were fully constructed. Thus, they had to set up shop in the renovated garage. Six months later, the company's five-person sales team left their garage and moved into a spanking new office.

Since then, the business' pace has steadily accelerated. In four and one half years, the company's original team of five has expanded to include over 44 sales representatives. This growth caused them to have to locate into larger premises at 1685 Main Street West, Hamilton. As well, they opened a second Re/Max advantage office in Ancaster. Plans are under way to move that office to new high tech facilities, in the New Meadowlands of Ancaster.

Re/Max advantage Realty Inc. has attracted and employs the highest calibre of representatives. A sincere concern for integrity and business maturity is expressed from a select group who represent the management team. Not only is this successful selling team known in the community for their expertise in their chosen marketplace — but are consistently producing well above industry standards.

It is not surprising that "Re/Max" is the number ONE real estate organization in Canada. Re/Max stands for "Real Estate Maximum's" and each Re/Max associate is dedicated to professionalism and performance.

This is definately the Re/Max advantage!

In Hamilton, the Royal Bank consists of two major units, each attending to the unique customer needs of the market it serves. Larger corporations are managed at the Regional Corporate Banking Centre, led by Manager John Michaluk Independent and Agricultural Business and the bank's branch network, fall under Gord Appleton, who is Vice-President, Retail Banking for Hamilton/Wentworth

The Regional Corporate Centre is staffed with a team of experienced bankers, located in downtown Hamilton, and provides a full range of banking and corporate financial services to companies in the Regional Municipalities of Hamilton/Wentworth, Haldimand/Norfolk, and Brant Counties. Working with clients, these specialists carefully tailor a wide array of financial products, including a variety of financing vehicles, treasury management services, and information reporting, to satisfy customer needs.

The Group serves customers from many industry segments, but special emphasis is placed on understanding the unique needs of the metals, electronics, health care, manufacturing, and real estate sectors. The Corporate Account Management Team has access to the vast resources of the Royal Bank worldwide, and regularly calls on the bank's market, product, and technological groups, to provide a high-quality expertise often needed to implement a customer's financial strategy. The Corporate Team's goal is to ensure each customer receives the highest possible level of service, whether the customer's business is a single operating unit dealing in the local area, or a multi-national organization with a global presence. Michaluk says, "The Corporate Banking climate has changed. Today's customer wants performance, not just relationships. International capabilities, specialized knowledge of the customers, latest cash and management techniques, and rock-solid operational capabilities continue to be high ranking needs for most of today's technology intense, emerging, and growing Corporate customers and that's what the Royal delivers."

Falling under the other major division in Hamilton, the Retail Banking Group, is Personal Banking, Private Banking, Independent and Agricultural Business Banking and the bank's servicing capability. The Retail Banking Team's market embraces the Regional Municipality of Hamilton/Wentworth. Gord Appleton, who heads the Retail Group, states "We are no longer trying to be all things to all people in all places. Instead, we are becoming more specialized by segmenting our business around specific market segments to provide our customers with a level of expertise and a quality of service excellence that is the best in the industry"

Personal Banking is the responsibility of specialized Managers in each of the bank's 24 locations, where teams of Personal Bankers serve the needs of customers. Each location also has a Customer Service Manager, who is responsible for attending to the day-to-day processing of personal and business transactional needs.

The bank's Private Banking Centre, managed by Bruce Brown, caters to individuals who need highly personalized around-the-clock service in a wide variety of lending, investment, and information based services

The Royal also boasts two Independent Business Centres in Hamilton, one downtown, headed by Gord Mills, and one in Hamilton's east end, managed by Vern Rushton. Gord and Vern, both seasoned business managers supervise a team of specialized Account Managers, who handle the requirements of companies with needs similar to those of the Royal's larger Corporate customers, but because of their size and structure, are known as the bank's Independent Business customers. Their clients range from small, new, start-up firms, to long-established and mature enterprises

The Business Services Group, led by Joan Chester, is responsible for processing all customer transactions. This Group goes the extra mile to make top notch service not just a saying, but a reality Specialized functions such as electronic banking, Letters of Credit, Foreign Exchange, and investment services are also provided by the Business Services Group. Other background groups in the bank's Hamilton-based Retail Banking Team, include the Operations Processing Centre, and a Mortgage and Student Loans Centre

Both Gord and John agree that, "By structuring our business into separate units, which specialize in satisfying the needs of the different customers we serve, the Royal Bank Team in Hamilton is committed to providing customers with the highest quality of service in the marketplace. Serving the customer well, is the reason for everything we do"

"Serving the customer well, is the reason for everything we do."

[illegible] ou won't get [illegible]es, you'll get results. You'll [illegible]he satisfaction of knowing that your order is in motion as soon as you hang up your telephone or send your fax.

Cloke & Son, Hamilton's oldest and most respected office product company, understands the demand that is placed on your time. Waiting for supplies or service costs you more than money, it costs you business. Cloke's works hard to ensure that it has the most efficient customer order and delivery system in the Golden Horseshoe area.

To help achieve a 24hr turnaround on your office supply order, Cloke & Son relocated its head office to 601 Burlington Street East, in the industrial heart of Hamilton. The 34,000 square foot facility houses the warehouse and distribution centre; administration and sales offices; commercial printing department; machine service department and their new superstore. The new warehouse has been upgraded with a new computerized carousel system to increase the speed and efficiency of the order processing department. Cloke & Son also has a new number. Now customers need only remember 52-CLOKE. Again the emphasis is on fast and easy access.

The new location, which replaces the Cumberland Avenue office, is within minutes of major industrial clients. It is close to the highway and it's convenient for Cloke & Son customers and employees.

The attention to people's needs, combined with a series of industry 'firsts', has always kept the name of Cloke & Son uppermost in the minds of executives. If you're seeking the quality office supplies, machines, furnishings or printing that are required to operate your office dial 52-CLOKE.

By locating the head office in what was once the International Harvester truck service plant, John Cloke, president and great-grandson to company founder J. G. Cloke, hopes to help spark a revitalization of Hamilton's industrial north end. "The developers are looking at this section of Hamilton the same way people looked at the Toronto waterfront ten years ago."

Most of Hamilton's top companies, hospitals and government offices have come to rely on Cloke & Son for their complete office needs. Seventy-five percent of Cloke & Son's business is with its corporate clients. But that doesn't mean that Cloke overlooks the small office or the home consumer.

The retail division, called Cloke's Stationery, has outlets in five convenient locations; Burlington Mall, Lime Ridge Mall, Fennell Square Plaza, the Market Square in Brantford and now the "superstore" at 601 Burlington Street East. Plans call for the return of a downtown retail outlet in the Eaton's Centre by the fall of 1990.

In addition Cloke's Office Design, the company's office furniture and design operation, offers a wide selection of office furnishings and interiors. Top employee performance can only be achieved by proper office design. The staff at the King and John Street office can help create an optimum office environment for you.

When John George Cloke first opened his "Bookselling and Stationery" business on James Street South in 1896, he was determined to offer the finest quality and the best service. Four generations later, service means speed and efficiency. John George would barely recognize the operation now, but he would recognize the customer satisfaction and the "power of selection" that he inspired 93 years ago.

THE PORT OF HAMILTON

The Industrial Area of the Port of Hamilton Represents an Economic Powerhouse for Southwestern Ontario.

The Port of Hamilton, administered by the Hamilton Harbour Commissioners, boasts over 11,350 metres of docking facilities serving 2,065 acres of industrial land. The area north of Burlington Street in Hamilton is home to just over 36 industries, and is the heart of the Port of Hamilton's industrial area, including Canada's two largest integrated steelworks, Dofasco and Stelco. The steel industry is heavily reliant upon the Port for the inbound transportation of iron ore and coal and for outbound shipments of finished steel products. Due to the huge scale of these operations relative to other port-related industries, their spending and employment tends to dominate the level of economic activity associated with the Port. Taken together, these 36 businesses located in the Port of Hamilton represent an economic powerhouse for the region, generating:

- $5.2 billion in total expenditures
- $1.66 billion in wages and salaries, and
- 24,535 jobs.

An additional 60 port-using businesses located both in Hamilton and in other centres in southwestern Ontario, generate a further $72 million in expenditures, of which $40 million is spent on wages and salaries, and directly employing about 1,340 workers.

The Port of Hamilton Plays a Pivotal Role in Serving the Transportation Requirements of Southwestern Ontario.

The Port of Hamilton represents an economic thoroughfare for the movement of ore, coal, steel, petroleum and a wide range of agricultural and industrial products. The Port provides a strategic link between the road, rail and Seaway transportation systems. Located at the western end of Lake Ontario, the Port facilitates the inbound and outbound movement of cargo to communities throughout the industrial and agricultural heartland of southwestern Ontario. In 1988 the Port handled 13 million tonnes of cargo, and Hamilton ranked 1st among all Great Lakes ports in terms of overseas general cargo handled. Thus, the Port is economically linked not only to the economic well-being of the Hamilton region, but also to the much larger geographical area of southwestern Ontario.

The Economic Activity of the Port Industries Generates Additional Jobs and Economic Benefits for Both Hamilton and the Ontario Economies.

The economic benefits associated with the high level of economic activity directly generated by Port-dependent industries and businesses spillover into the economy of Hamilton. As a result, Hamilton has an average industrial wage which is higher than the provincial average, and an unemployment rate which, for the past few years, has been consistently 2 to 3 percentage points below the provincial average.

Through the multiplier effect, the port-related businesses support an additional 66,245 jobs throughout the Canadian economy, however, the vast majority of those jobs are in Ontario, and to a lesser and other economy. Key sector

tion and building mat transportation. The linkages ar evidenced in the following indicator total economic activity generate through the multiplier effect of spending by port-related businesse

- $4.2 billion in Gross Domestic Product
- $3.8 billion in labour income, and
- $11.6 billion in industrial shipment

The Links Between the Steel and Agricultural Sectors and Other Economic Sectors is Dominant.

Waterborne shipments to and from steel and related industries accounts for a significant percent of the Port's throughput and generates a large level of revenues for the Hamilton Harbour Commissioners, which enables them to be self-financing. These revenues in turn, support a robust capital expenditure program to continually upgrade and expand the harbour facility to maintain the Port's competitiveness. Over the period 1980 to 1987, $23.5 million has been poured into capital development and is scheduled to average about $5.3 million over each of the next 3 years to 1992. These expenditures also generate significant levels of economic activity primarily for the construction and building materials sectors, as well as for engineering and other related services.

Based on the location of the two integrated steel mills, Hamilton has also developed as a steel centre with a concentration of steel and metal fabricating industries including pipe and structural products, rolling stock, and heavy equipment manufacturing. Similarly, the Port of Hamilton's location and accessibility to the agricultural heart of southwestern Ontario has facilitated the growth in shipments of products from the agricultural and food processing sectors through the Port.

The Port is Strategically Located to Continue to Capture Increased Business.

The Port of Hamilton enjoys a strategic location at the western end of Lake Ontario which obviates the need to incur the time and expense of travel through the Welland Canal system. This location is complemented by an excellent network of road, railway and pipeline transportation systems which facilitates both inbound and outbound shipments through the Port. Many of the industries located on the Hamilton waterfront expect to remain and grow in the longer term because of the access to multiple markets, including the United States, which this location provides. Moreover, the location avoids the traffic congestion costs associated with reaching other ports east of Hamilton, notably in the Toronto area. The Hamilton Harbour Commissioners will endeavor to work closely with their clients and tenants to meet needs for expanded dockside industrial land

Achieving Manufacturing Excellence Through M.I.M.E.

Canadian manufacturers today are becoming increasingly aware of the need for increased technology in their plants. This technology is needed to achieve competitive advantage through manufacturing excellence. Improvements are being sought in such areas as quality, productivity and product design. As a result, ever increasing amounts of capital are being committed to new equipment and processes.

However, in many cases firms lack the knowledge and skill to properly integrate and make the best use of this technology. To this end, a new initiative by McMaster University's Faculty of Engineering has been established to provide both skill development and technology transfer in the area of manufacturing engineering.

This program is called McMaster Internship in Manufacturing Engineering, or M.I.M.E. It is intended to promote cooperative research between industry and university in applied topics of manufacturing engineering.

In each case, the research project is identified by the participating firm as an important step towards gaining excellence in its manufacturing facility. The research is conducted by one of the firm's engineers who has been selected as an intern, and who works under the joint supervision of the firm and a McMaster faculty member. During the project, the intern attends graduate courses which relate to the technical nature of the research. After completing the courses and writing a thesis to outline the research work, the intern is eligible to receive a Masters degree in manufacturing engineering.

Firms benefit from using M.I.M.E. in three ways:

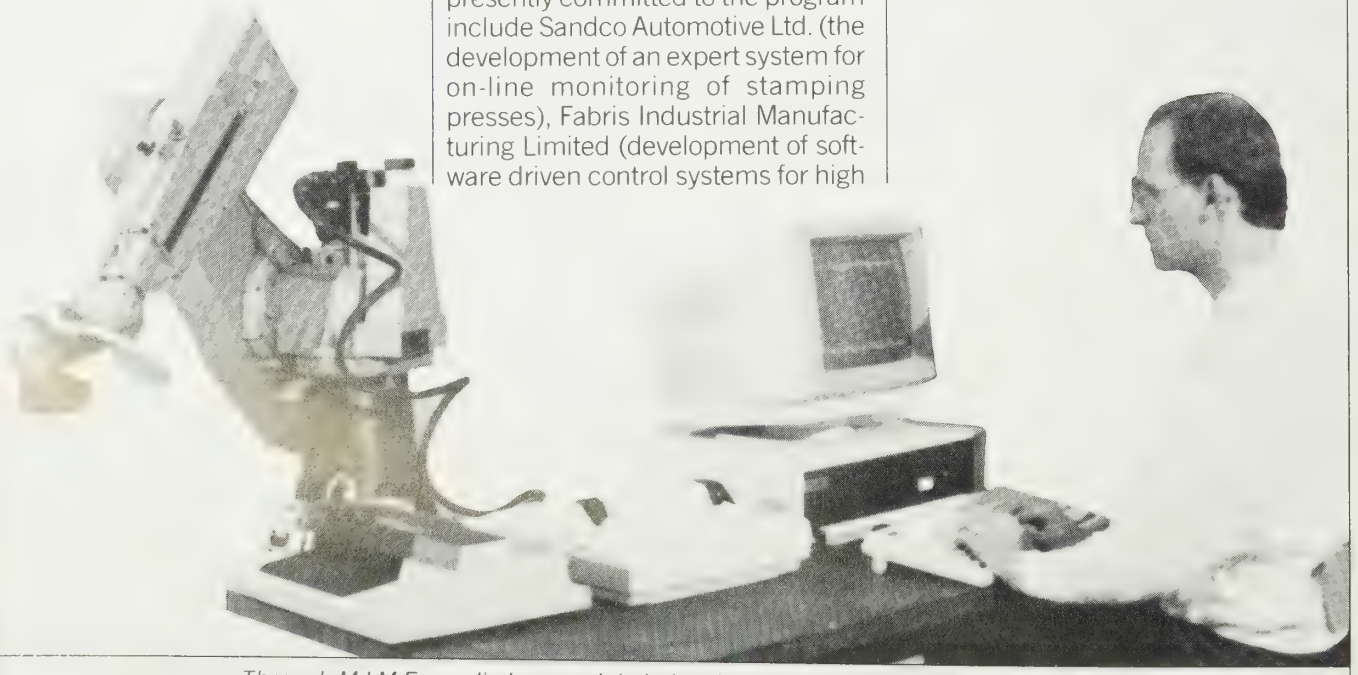

1. They gain the introduction of an important new manufacturing technology.
2. They achieve the development of an in-house expertise in that technology which will ensure successful implementation, personnel training, and the ability to extend that technology in the future.
3. The program emphasises the use of government incentive funds and university paid overheads to considerably offset the cost otherwise incurred by a vendor or in-house staff to introduce the same benefits.

M.I.M.E. started in January 1989, and has been warmly received by many segments of industry. Firms presently committed to the program include Sandco Automotive Ltd. (the development of an expert system for on-line monitoring of stamping presses), Fabris Industrial Manufacturing Limited (development of software driven control systems for high precision machine tools), and Procter and Gamble Incorporated (development of on-line monitoring and process control of soap making equipment). It is expected that a further 5 to 8 firms will be part of M.I.M.E. by the middle of 1990.

M.I.M.E. is the logical extension of manufacturing based projects that McMaster University has completed jointly with industry in the past. These projects have included such manufacturing topics as computer integrated manufacturing, machine tool controls, robotic design, computer simulation, industrial engineering, CAD/CAE/CAM, machine vision, production planning/scheduling, and expert systems. In addition, M.I.M.E. complements the Faculty's undergraduate degree in manufacturing engineering.

M.I.M.E.'s future developments and growth will include an internship program for technicians and technologists, a M.I.M.E. teaching facility, and further ways of helping to improve education, skills, and technology transfer for all levels of Canada's manufacturing sector.

Further information on this program can be obtained from M.I.M.E.'s Executive Director, Dale Schenk at (416) 648-7440.

Through M.I.M.E., applied research in industrial robotic control is conducted by a graduate engineer.

McCusker Flower Shop

Anna McCusker creates environments for a living. So it's not out of character for the owner of the consulting and event-planning company that bears her name to use hard hats and sawdust in staging a construction industry bash. This time, however, Anna and her staff are donning construction gear to stage an event of their own — the opening of McCusker Floral Concepts' new corporate headquarters.

What is now a construction site at 65 Walnut Street South soon will become headquarters to the consulting end of the business. A block away, on the ground floor of Century 21 on Main Street East, is the flower shop that started it all. It will remain the retail location for McCusker's, attracting regular clients and off-the-street traffic.

"We are planning to expand the corporate consulting part of our business and the new headquarters is evidence of that commitment," McCusker says. To this end she has just taken on a partner, Lynn Mitges, whose background in banking will be particularly useful in this expansionary phase.

An expansion, yes; new, no. McCusker has been a floral consultant since opening the shop three years ago. Her assignments have ranged from locating 100-year-old cacti to designing a living wall sculpture for a law office. Corporate clients have included the Canadian Automobile Association, whose 1988 meeting in a hanger at Mt. Hope posed a special challenge; Hillcrest Catering, whose booth at the Leeds' Bridal Show featured an incredible, almost edible, topiary of breads and fruit; and the Attorney General's Office for the opening of the Unified Family Court building. McCusker's also was one of the florists involved in the recent vist of the Queen Mother to Toronto and the company recently designed a luncheon meeting for the Joint Commission held at the Convention Centre. Not to mention countless weddings, parties and showers.

"They're all different," McCusker comments. "We work with each client individually, trying to find out what they like and don't like, developing a theme that ties into their business, capturing a mood. We create an environment. We don't just sell flowers. We sell ideas."

For the Automobile Association meeting she created roadways from ribbons, with miniature cars criss-crossing the table. A Ford Model-T held flowers. But more important, the massive space — a designer's nightmare — was transformed into a warm, inviting environment for a business meeting with a difference.

McCusker and her staff (3.5 full-time and five part-time) work hard to ensure the product is fresh. The new headquarters will have a large workroom where each flower can be kept at the appropriate temperature and treated with the appropriate chemical. "I like fresh product," she points out. "I order it so there is just enough time. It never sits too long."

The Walnut Street headquarters will also be the site of McCusker's famous and very popular Christmas party this year.

For the past five years McCusker has held Christmas parties for clients and friends in her Ancaster home. And these are parties with a difference. Each room is decorated on a theme, which, in the past, has meant everything from a Winter Wonderland with carousels and bubble machines in the garage to a Peacock room, featuring peacock feathers against an all-black decor as a focus for corporate gifts. A Florentine room, with gold and white garlands and stars, was also very popular one year.

As for this year, McCusker says she hasn't yet decided on a theme. Clients and friends can probably breathe easily, though. It is, she says, most unlikely that she'll pick a construction theme!

HAMILTON

Home to Amstel Brewery.

Hamiltonians got their first taste of Amstel in 1981 when Amstel Brewery Canada Limited opened its doors. As a wholly owned subsidiary of Heineken, the world's third largest brewing entity, Amstel Brewery brought with it a long-standing tradition of brewing excellence.

These high standards have since allowed the brewery to tap into a market dominated almost exclusively by what are now the 'Big Two' breweries. "We have achieved a significant share of market in an industry where no one else has been able." says Kai Plaugmann, the President of Amstel Brewery Canada Limited. "We've done it by creating a niche for our most popular brands – Amstel and Amstel Light."

In this day of mega mergers and free trade, it has become apparent that the industry regulations which have been in place for so long, are no longer working well. Current regulations stipulate that if you sell beer in a province, you must brew it in that province. Due to the increased competition of American beers, however, this expensive practice is putting the Canadian brewers at a disadvantage. They are, in essence, forced to operate inefficiently. As a result, there is a general industry anticipation that interprovincial, and international trade will soon become reality.

Says Ted Mealing, the Senior Product Manager at the brewery, "We welcome the changes. Our brands have been positioned for future growth. And our plant has the operational capacity to handle the potential output. We are poised and ready for when the trade barriers come down."

No longer, therefore, is it a question of 'if' things will change in the industry. It's a question of 'when'. And as Plaugmann says, "Amstel Brewery stands only to gain when these overdue amendments come into play."

To further strengthen their efficiency, Amstel has consolidated the Toronto office with the Hamilton plant. By doing so, it only underscores the importance of hometown presence to Amstel. The brewery is also the sponsor of the enormously popular 'Ride Free' program at New Year's, and the popular Amstel Light Hamilton Marathon. Adds Mealing, "At Amstel, we're proud to be known as Hamilton's brewery. And we look forward to continually strengthening our ties with this great city."

Buntin Gillies is Climbing to the Top in "The Paper Chase".

Buntin Gillies is one of Hamilton's oldest firms and one of Canada's oldest fine paper merchants, supplying the fine paper needs of the southwestern Ontario market for over 141 years.

The company was founded in 1848 in order to satisfy a growing need within the rapidly developing commercial printing market for a reliable source of quality paper. In 1958, Buntin Gillies was acquired by Domtar Inc. thus providing sound financial backing and a further source for continued development of fine paper, customer service and distribution expertise. This detailed attention to customer needs and the continual development of resources to satisfy these needs are major reasons for the success of Buntin Gillies, as demonstrated by its proven track record spanning more than 141 years.

M. Gardner, Controller, R. Campbell, Sales Manager, R. Stevens, General Manager, P. Nixon, Marketing Manager

The commercial printing market is comprised of numerous segments, each having different needs that continually change as technology and the market change. Segments serviced by Buntin include: commercial printers; quick copiers; forms manufacturers; corporate in-plant printing; paper converters; government printing; educational printing; retail stationers.

The key needs of these segments include: quality fine papers; one-source, hassle-free purchasing; at-once and guaranteed on-time delivery; one-source supply with delivery to multiple chain or franchise locations; paper specifications expertise; large selection of in-stock fine papers covering all major grades, finishes, sizes and weights; competitive pricing.

At Buntin Gillies, satisfying customer needs is a continual process that requires close attention to and excellent relations with each customer within each of the market segments. Currently, Buntin Gillies is undertaking an aggressive program of moulding itself for the future.

In 1988, the Paper Network was formed joining 3 strategically located merchants — Buntin Gillies in Hamilton, Halls Paper in Toronto and Federal Paper in Montreal. Development of "The Paper Network" offers numerous benefits to the commercial printing market including:

1) Exceptional coverage in Canada's two major fine paper markets—Montreal and Toronto/Southwestern Ontario. This means no-hassle, one source buying for even the chain and franchise operations.

2) A thorough, strategically designed product range that is kept in stock at all times.

3) Three very experienced paper merchants with personnel dedicated to "Total Quality."

Also in 1988, Buntin Gillies underwent a major renovation program to upgrade facilities in order to meet the latest needs of the commercial printing market.

Quality improvement is a continual process at Buntin Gillies, driven by a task force composed of employees from all areas of operations within the company. The priority of this task force is to monitor operations in order to develop and implement strategies, as required, to achieve the goal of "Total Quality."

Key elements of the commercial printing industry are the advertising and "specifier" groups. This is where idea generation happens and these groups have special needs that include knowledge of paper specifications and capabilities, availability of samples with which to test out new concepts and an ongoing program designed to update these groups regarding new and innovative products, on a timely basis. In order to satisfy these needs, Buntin Gillies has established a sales promotion department which calls regularly on group members in order to communicate needed information while it is still current and make arrangements for samples as required.

Customers are noticing a new marketing culture at Buntin Gillies. This is another step in the company's program of building for the future. Market information is gathered from numerous sources including a professional sales team attuned to the needs of the commercial printing market; the sales promotion department, which constantly monitors the needs of the graphic arts, advertising and designer segments; and market research. This information is fed to the marketing department where it is used in developing new products, services, programs, promotions and communications to the market.

The bottom line at Buntin Gillies is a company that is unified in its commitment of building for the future. The future at Buntin Gillies means offering superior quality products and customer service to its customers and making the future available today.

Stirling has the Winning Combination!

A Winning Combination! It's more than just a slogan for Stirling Print and Creative Services Inc..

Stirling is the area's only one stop full service graphic and print supercentre.

Under one roof, Stirling brought together creative design and printing services in response to the varied needs of their many clients.

Twelve professional type and graphic designers work in the creative service department to assist customers with any project, large or small, from concept to completion. High-tech computer technology means changes can be made quickly to meet client needs.

Seven printing presses, which offer virtually an unlimited spectrum of size and colour combinations, as well as numbering, binding, collating, folding, stapling and laminating are all handled in-house.

A convenient walk-in copy shop provides some of the latest electronic duplicating technology, available such as high-speed laser colour-copier that produces dazzling full colour copies.

Copying services are also provided in the Mr. Print-All outlet in Jackson Square.

Fast and efficient pick-up and delivery is provided by the Stirling owned fleet of radio dispatched trucks.

The Stirling TEAM (Together Everyone Achieves More) of 64 employees are encouraged to work closely with customers. "We believe we can achieve the highest levels of excellence only through teamwork and by building loyalty and trust with our customers", says Bob Stirling, founder of the 15 year old company located at 374 King Street East, at the corner of West Avenue.

Stirling has recently introduced a competition to reward excellence. The competition involves members of the Stirling team submitting projects they are particularly proud of. Then, clients from other projects judge the work on various criteria, such as creativity and excellence of production.

The competition serves a dual role in promoting excellence of workmanship not only internally, but in the marketplace as well.

The clients and employees involved will be honoured with Stirling Awards of Excellence!

Another important element in the company's Winning Combination is the ongoing support of community events throughout the year.

Stirling sponsors the Ontario Wheelchair Marathon Championships which take place as part of the annual Amstel Light Hamilton Marathon, as well as the annual Around the Bay Road Race.

The Stirling Team is well known for its participation in the Hamilton and District Chamber of Commerce annual Corporate Challenge Day.

Through all this and more, it is obvious that Stirling Print and Creative Services Inc. delivers in more ways than one!

WILLIAM STIRLING, JR. ROBERT W. STIRLING

In 1974, our sign went up in the window of 374 King St. East in Hamilton. Our philosophy then was the same as it is now — to identify the needs of the marketplace, and to effectively service those needs through a highly co-ordinated team effort

As times have changed, so has our company We've expanded our service and updated our equipment. We've increased our knowledge and welcomed the advantages of computer technology And through it all, we've continued to provide our customers with quality and service at a reasonable price.

At Stirling Print and Creative Services, we have a highly trained team of specialists with the knowledge and expertise to handle all your marketing, creative and printing needs

We invite you to put us to the test. We'll come through with flying colours — even in black and white. Now more than ever, we deliver in more ways than one

MLH / K. G. BROWN

"These days you really need to stay on top of changes."

Salary administration, pay equity and pension administration are causing employers bigger and bigger headaches these days. Remaining on top of changing legislation in pensions alone is [illegible] aspirin manufacturers in [illegible]

[illegible] organizations are [illegible] benefits consultants for advice and support. "You could say we specialize in solving problems created by legislation" says David Gow, partner-in-charge at MLH + A / K. G. Brown, actuaries and consultants.

MLH + A offers consultation and assistance in all types of employee benefits: salaries, group insurance, bonus and incentive plans, pensions and employee communications; annuity and RRIF placements and pre-retirement financial counselling.

Why use a consulting firm for these services? "It's cheaper", says David Gow, "than putting someone on staff who in a year won't be conversant with the marketplace. These days you really need to stay on top of changes."

There have been plenty of changes in employee relations since K. G. (Ken) Brown first hung up his shingle in Hamilton in 1931. Brown was very active in the Hamilton community and the firm he started has been a significant force here ever since.

David Gow and his senior consultants, Keith Morrallee and Lionel Hudon, like to think of themselves as employees of their clients. They get to know the organization thoroughly and offer personal service their larger competitors can't match. "Of course", adds Gow, "competitive cost and value for money help, too." Clients also appreciate the fact that the consultants work on a fee-for-service basis, with commissions offset against fees. This combination has worked well for the firm; it has brought long-term clients (some going back as far as 1934) and it has brought growth.

There are now 16 people in the Hamilton office, part of a network of 270 in MLH + A's six offices across Canada.

The merger of K. G. Brown Associates two years ago with MLH + A inc. means that clients can tap into expertise and resources in all aspects of the employee-employer relationship, in addition to MLH's other specialties, such as services to general insurance companies, risk management and consulting actuarial services for the legal profession.

It is this total range of services that continues to attract new clients — large and small corporations, municipalities, associations, foundations — all of whom have one thing in common: they need solutions to their increasingly complex problems in employee compensation and benefits.

"That's what we do, simply put", concludes David Gow. "We provide answers."

The Financial Planning Professionals

As with physical fitness, getting into financial trim is a slow process which requires discipline and education. There are no shortcuts to overnight success: the key word is 'planning.'

Comprehensive financial planning is the main service offered by Financial Concept Group(FCG). With local offices in Hamilton and Burlington, FCG provides financial advice tailored to the individual investor's needs.

"We start at the beginning with our clients by clarifying their financial goals. From there we draw up a long-range financial plan and implement it objectively," says Rick Kennedy, one of the four partners managing the two local offices. Kennedy characterizes FCG as a "hybrid" with the best properties of a fee-for-service financial counselling service and a commission oriented brokerage firm. "Because we aren't a fee-for-service firm, we are more accessible to the average person; and, because we have access to virtually hundreds of investment products, we are able to give our clients objective advice," explains Kennedy.

This objectivity is one characteristic that marks FCG as unique among the many types of financial counselling services available today. The second factor which sets Financial Concept apart from the crowd is its comprehensive approach to investment planning. "We have recognized that people don't want to be sold investment products. They are looking for a good, long-term relationship with a caring, competent and knowledgeable advisor who can direct them on the road to achieving long-term goals," says Clarence Bick, a graduate of the MBA program at McMaster University who joined the partnership a year ago along with his brother Leonard, also an MBA Mac graduate.

Financial Concept has grown to over 20 branches across Ontario with a head office in Toronto. The company and its 125 financial planners represent more than 30 trust companies, 110 mutual funds, 60 annuity and RRSP issuers, 50 insurance companies and a wide range of real estate and other tax assisted investments. Besides personal financial planning, FCG also provides a comprehensive speaker service, corporate retirement planning and investment seminars.

Helping clients plan for financial success, says Don Bridgman, one of the original founders of the firm back in 1981, is a complex business. "Our job as financial advisors is not just to deal with the technical aspects of investing, it is also to have an understanding of the quality of life that our clients have today and want to have in the future."

Working to keep Canada on the move and growing.

A bold new future in the agricultural equipment industry has arrived, thanks to the heritage of the past and the continued worldwide operations of Case IH.

As part of the Case IH organization, the Hamilton plant will continue to produce quality agricultural equipment and implements unsurpassed in design, manufacture, reliability and value, just as it has since 1903.

Case IH Model 5200 Air Drill, built in Hamilton.

Hamilton-built Case IH Model 596 Tandem Disk Harrow.

Hamilton-built Model 595 Tandem Axle Manure Spreader.

Headquartered in Racine, Wisconsin, Case IH is a leading manufacturer and marketer of agricultural, construction and utility equipment worldwide.

Case IH is an affiliate of Tenneco Inc., the 21st largest industrial corporation in America. With major business interests in oil, natural gas pipelines, agricultural and construction equipment, shipbuilding, automotive parts, chemicals, packaging, and agriculture and land management, Tenneco is committed to making Case IH the best in its industries.

We are Case IH...Still hard at work, keeping Canadians on the move—while helping Canada grow and prosper.

The business travellers who daily [illegible] cross this vast land are as [illegible] demanding of their airline as they are [illegible] themselves.

Their airline must have exemplary [illegible] ground and inflight service. Beyond that, they expect a schedule that can [illegible] comfortably accommodate their itineraries. Because we meet such exacting standards, Canadian has become the airline of choice for a growing number of business travellers.

Together with our Partners we have created the most comprehensive network this country has ever seen. Serving more than 150 destinations throughout Canada.

While we offer three classes – First Class, Canadian Business Class, and Canadian Class – we only have one standard of service. World-class.

OUR WORLD REVOLVES AROUND YOU.
We are Canadi»n

[illegible] d»n is a registered trademark of Canadian Airlines International Ltd

Our Hospitality is in a class all its own.

Hospitality Service includes complimentary bar and an excellent choice of wines with your meals

Relax with complimentary stereo headsets for our entertaining selection of audio programmes and first run movies on selected flights

Enjoy tasty full-course meals whether you fly at breakfast, lunch or dinner

Hospitality isn't just a smile and a warm welcome aboard Air Canada. It's a special class of service that includes all the little extras you'd expect from a world-class airline. Without any extra charges. And it's yours to enjoy wherever Air Canada flies.

If there's anything else we can do to make your flight more enjoyable, just ask

Your taste in music is refined. The intimacy of the classics as they are performed by musicians is second to none. You surround yourself with Luxury every day.

The vehicle you drive should say nothing less of you than success. From the opulence of a Rolls Royce Corniche II to the unbridled luxury of a Porsch 911, your lease should be orchestrated by professionals. In the comfort of your office, would you not like your next Lease professionally choreographed?

If this can turn around in 24 hours, why can't a simple letter of credit?

At Lloyds Bank we've always understood that the prompt delivery of a letter of credit can often make the difference between a good deal and a "No deal!" But now with LloydsLink,™ things move even more quickly. You can send in applications at lightning speed via your office PC, and our turnaround time at head office averages less than 24 hours.

Combine all this with the time-saving advantages of our 46-nation network and you'll see why we should be working together.

Call us soon. Time can make a difference to your business, and it's time we showed you how.

The tireless wireless

Now it's easy to hold the phone . . . anywhere.

Just get your hands on Panasonic's new Hand-Held Cellular Phone on the Cantel network. It's small enough to fit in your pocket or purse yet it's packed with features like built-in memory for 40 numbers and NAMES, function menu guide and dual telephone number.

The 'stay-alive' function means you can change batteries without losing the call and with the optional hands-free car mount, you can keep in touch on the road or off.

Get hold of one today.

This product covered by the Exclusive Cantel Service Centre 5 Year Warranty

THIS IS A STICK-UP!

PLACE TACK HERE

It's okay. You can put away your wallet. In fact we're going to help your company save money! Because when you have an excessive workload, there's no need to pay a full-time salary for a part-time job. Instead, slowly lower your arms, and call Drake to experience the difference we can make:

Drake Office Overload... When you need temporary office help in a flash with the skills to ensure the job gets done, no one does it better and faster than Drake Office Overload.

Drake Industrial Overload... Skilled, semi-skilled or unskilled, we've got temporary or permanent laborers, packers, loaders and warehouse personnel on call, ready to fill the largest orders in the fastest possible time.

Drake Drivers Overload... Serving the transportation needs of thousands of companies, Drake Drivers Overload has the qualified temporary and permanent personnel to keep the trucks rolling and products moving on-schedule.

So go ahead and stick this ad up on the nearest bulletin board or wall. And the next time there's a workload that's holding up your company's productivity, call one of the numbers below for fast, efficient service.

When you come to the Connaught to stay COME TO PLAY!

Hamilton's Royal Connaught Hotel is much more than just a place to stay for an overnight or weekends stay—it really is a great place to play!

First, get your energy going with some fabulous food in our California-style restaurant—Vinton's Bistro and Grill. You'll enjoy fare that's a gourmets delight!

Then, go for a good laugh downstairs at Yuk Yuk's Komedy Kabaret and be comically entertained by some of North America's funniest acts.

Like to dance, try Vinton's on Saturday night and dine and dance the night away to the live sounds of the Matt Kennedy Trio. There's always something special happening in Vinton's.

Things getting a little hot? Cool down and take a gigantic 124 foot, 2 storey slide right into our indoor pool; or, just relax in our sauna or whirlpool. And, if you still want more activity, carry-on in our games and exercise room.

When it's finally time to call it a day, stay in one of our 207 comfortable, well appointed guest rooms or suites. You'll find every convenience you'd expect . . . and a few you wouldn't!

The Royal Connaught, Hamilton's BEST place to play!

We've got it all! The Royal Connaught Hotel

WHAT'S THE BEST ALTERNATIVE?

Corporate insurance rates can be a major expense item. That's a fact. So, it makes sense to take whatever steps necessary to keep property and casualty insurance expenses at a manageable level.

One alternative is to ASK THIS MAN.

He's Dan Lawrie, an independent insurance broker.

He can offer years of sound, professional experience in developing cost-efficient insurance programs for all segments of the business community.

Before you renew for another year you should talk to the Dan Lawrie team. They are a group of dedicated, professional people who can help you with any insurance need.

He's not the only alternative . . . but he could be your best.

ADVANCED IN ALMOST 100 WAYS.

We suggest you bring your most critical driver along when you inspect the new International Medium/Heavy Series. He is sure to feel good about the easy two-step entry, the quiet cab, the smooth performance, and the relaxed maneuverability and other driver comfort innovations. He will be just as impressed by the improved reliability that will protect him from frustrating roadside delays. The concept is simplicity itself. For example, fewer parts mean fewer problems, and faster, lower-cost maintenance. The electrical system is colour coded to simplify troubleshooting and shielded from road splash. New electronic gauges are not only more reliable, but easier to replace. The new hood design clears the way for easier routine maintenance.

Those are only a few of almost 100 advances, designed to put today's International trucks ahead of other makes still on the drawing board. Learn about other innovations from your International truck dealer – and bring a driver along.

THE SIGN OF SUCCESS

ALEC MURRAY SOLD

BUYING or SELLING?

There are many GOOD reasons why it makes sense to call a member of our team of real estate experts.

In over 26 years, we have grown to be one of the largest independent real estate companies in Ontario.

Alec Murray Real Estate is the only company that provides a showcase of homes in Hamilton's major downtown shopping centre, Jackson Square, where your home can be featured.

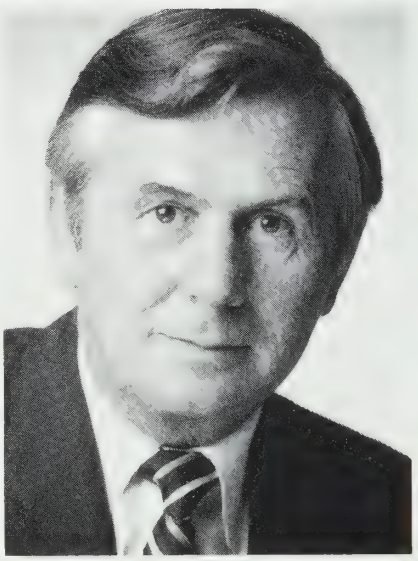

We provide extensive advertising throughout Ontario's Golden Horseshoe.

Our team of real estate professionals can make your search for a new home much easier, and there is no better way to advertise your present home than with: ALEC MURRAY REAL ESTATE

We are members of PHH HomEquity Relocation Centres, the largest relocation company in the ur community and our retained earnings stay here, boosting the local economy.

We back our sales representatives all the way in their efforts to give you excellent service from our offices in HAMILTON, BURLINGTON, ANCASTER, STONEY CREEK, DUNDAS and OAKVILLE

LOOKING INTO NEEDS. LOOKING AFTER QUALITY.

Canadian manufacturers must meet global standards of excellence today, not tomorrow. That's why domestic auto producers – along with manufacturers in virtually every other industry – are rethinking and reshaping this country's manufacturing infrastructure.

At Dofasco, we're sharpening our quality focus by developing new ways of working together – and with customers.

As a result, we're maximizing the performance of new steelmaking operations that in this decade alone represent an investment of almost $2 billion. They include "The System" – a world-class linkage of advanced steelmaking, ladle metallurgy, continuous slab casting, and hot rolling.

By the early 1990s, more galvanized capacity and a proposed new integrated cold mill complex will enhance our ability to produce new-generation coated products for more applications such as exposed auto parts.

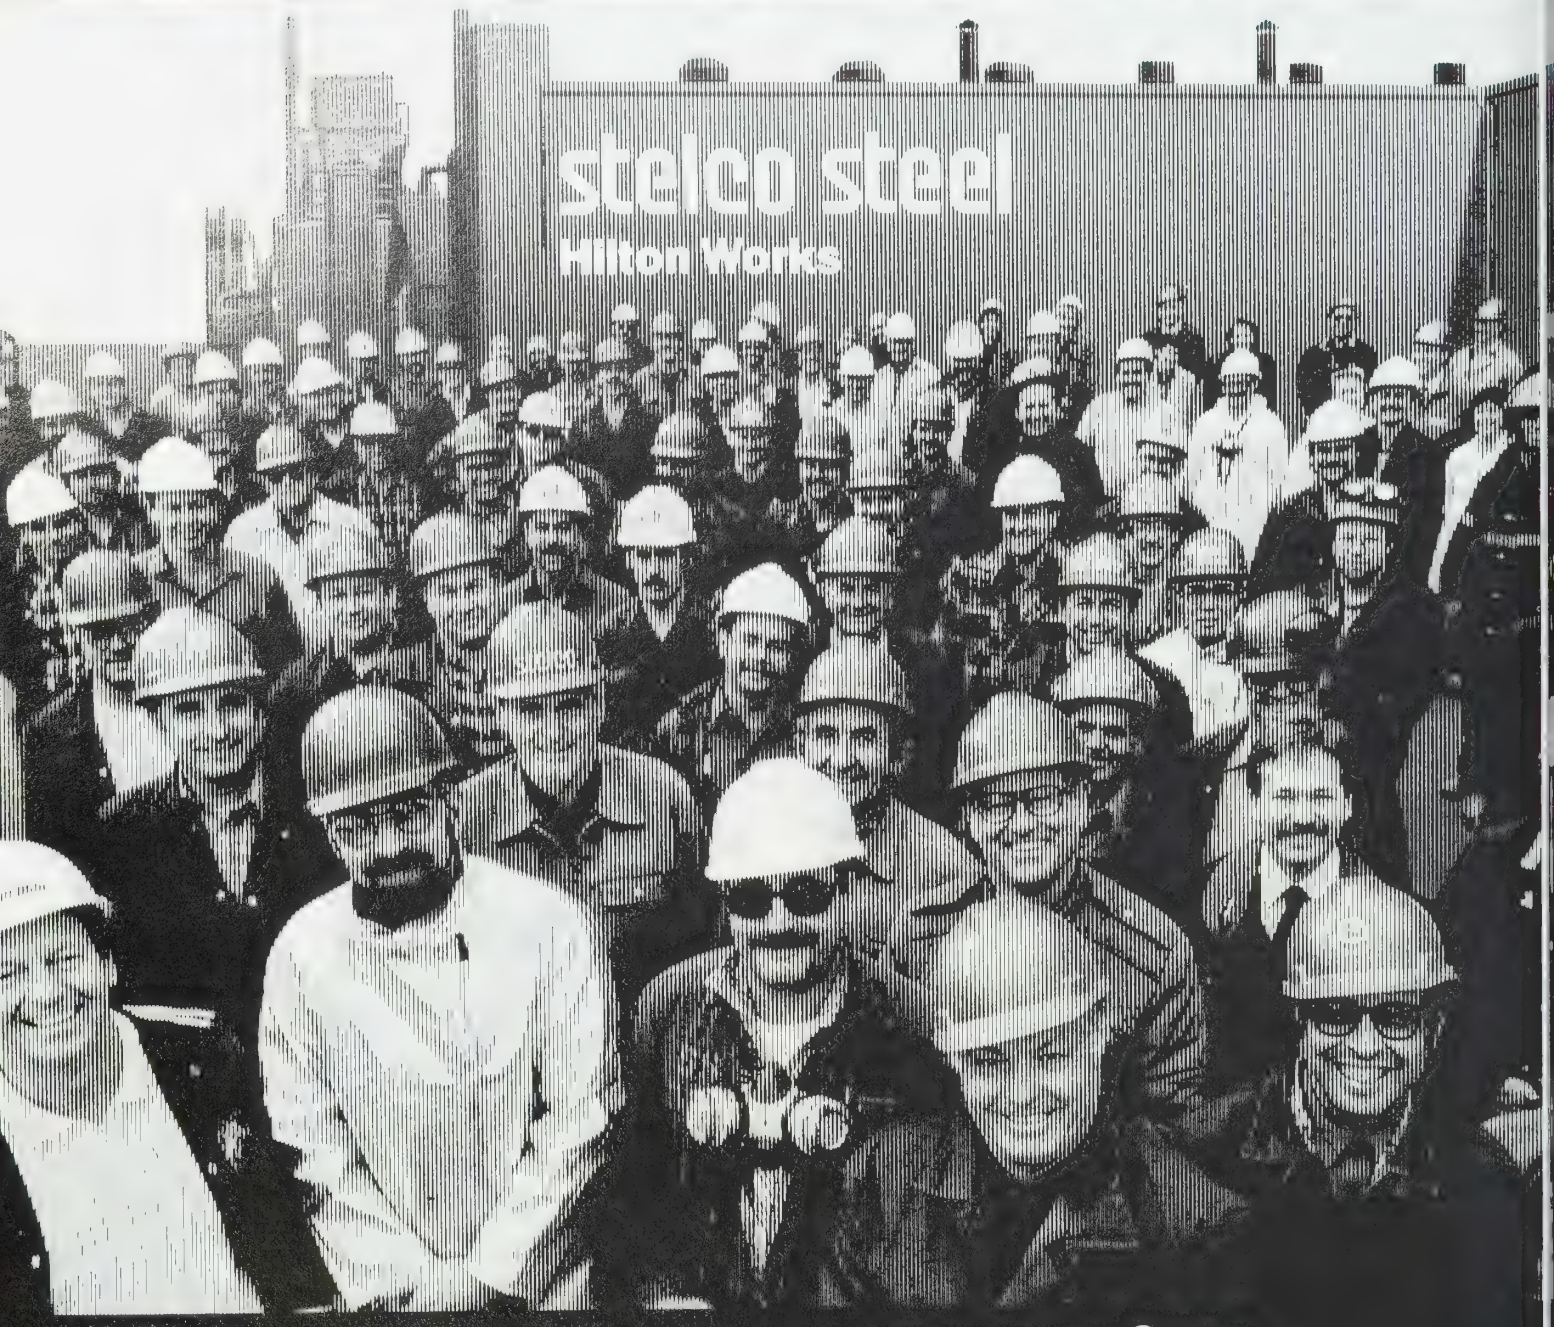

We're converting our continuing investment in new technology into unique quality achievements for each customer. That's more than a response to today's needs. It's also the best way for Canada's largest flat rolled steel producer to look to the future.

Our product is steel. Our strength is people.

Stelco Steel

a new look, a new pride, a renewed commitment to Hamilton

Hamilton, city of opportunity, home of Stelco Steel. Beginning a new era. World class facilities. Skilled, highly trained people, producing some of the world's finest steel. A new look. A new pride.
A renewed commitment to Hamilton.

TRANSPORTATION GROUP
FLUKE
ONTARIO

On the move to do it all.

130 years of transportation service in the Hamilton area and throughout the Golden Horseshoe have come together with the recent acquisition of Collins Transport by the Fluke Transportation Group.

Collins was founded 70 years ago in the pioneering days of truck transportation. It adds its outstanding reputation as a less-than-truck load carrier to Fluke Transport's 60 years of reliable truck-load service.

Burlington Terminals, a third member of the group, provides a broad range of warehousing and distribution services.

Although we are now big enough to meet most transportation needs, we will never let "big company" inflexibility come between us and our customers.
